Dynamic, Innovative Team Building Fun!

Today's typical corporate structure is designed for efficiency. Surprises are to be avoided. All moving parts must mesh together smoothly. But in building the perfect machine, spontaneity and creativity can sometimes suffer. After all, how can anyone be expected to think outside the box if they're trapped inside a box?

The Activity:

TeamProv is a multi-dimensional comedy-training program that works to strip away old, confining modes of thinking. The big idea here is to directly and effectively challenge the "cubicle mentality" that discourages truly innovative thinking. Through a series of fun-filled games and improvisational challenges, TeamProv encourages and celebrates original thinking, all while stimulating "dynamic creation." It all boils down to problem solving and the power of teamwork. Fortunately, this sort of thing strikes most people as a refreshing change from their normal work experience. An example of the challenges themselves – brain teasers like Kaleidoscope, Mutations and Pitch-n-Catch – are so engaging that participants tend to forget that they're actually learning something important and powerful.

TeamProv is built to change the predictable and automatic responses that foster dullness and boredom. Through a series of engaging, fun and interactive challenges, TeamProv helps de-program your people from reflexive responses that engender typical, mundane thinking. TeamProv is a breath of fresh air that gets employees out of autopilot mode, so they can experience the power of breakthrough thinking in every facet of your company's operation.

TeamProv can be completely customized in theme and content to support your specific goals, agenda and/or event theme. Let us show you how unique, relevant and fun team building can make a difference in your team!
