TEAM BUILDING SCAVENGER HUNTS

Spy Hunt

Mission Accomplished

This hunt is a game of espionage that will require cunning, strategy, teamwork and boldness of heart. It's a game within a game, just as the world of intelligence and counterintelligence is. Your team will bond... James Bond!

The Game: Mystery and Intrigue, that's what you get when you plan a Spy Hunt – Mission Accomplished. Your teams will move from destination to destination by following and finding clues, deciphering puzzles and receiving information via other secret agents, cassette tape, video tape, fax and voice mail. When your guests first arrive they are briefed by our top agents and are instructed to view a video of Executive Agent Q who gives them final details. Each team then exits from the briefing location in five-minute intervals. Teams receive a "Top Secret" attaché portfolio providing them with maps, clues, schedules and information that will get them from destination to destination. At many of these destinations they will be given certain mini-missions to accomplish before moving to the next location. Secret Agents, spies, hit men, and informants are scattered throughout the route to help or hinder the team's forward progress. Typical of a road rally, there are certain destination checkpoints that the team needs to get to within a specific time frame. Also, similar to a scavenger hunt, teams will need to take photos, purchase merchandise, beg or borrow items from locations. Each team then rendezvous back to the briefing location where they are debriefed and checked in for the last time. Spy Hunt can be used for ice-breaker purposes, team building, sight-seeing or training. Whatever your Mission, should you decide to accept it, we guarantee that your participants will have a great time!

Primary Benefit: Team building.

Secondary Benefits:

- Strategy
- Problem Solving
- Camaraderie
- Time Management
- Negotiation

Training Module or De-Brief: At a banquet, picnic or cocktail function held later that evening or the next day, one of our top agents will have fun joking with each team going over their mission's conclusions. Prizes are awarded in several categories to make this a fun ice-breaker and team building event for all. Spy Hunt is a competitive game so it is concluded with the announcement of the winning team.

Spy Hunt Continued

An optional post-hunt discussion on team strategies and dynamics with a trained facilitator can be added, if so desired.

Minimum/ Maximum Group Size:
12 - 200.

Program Length: There are several options to the length of this program. Level One, the basic Spy Hunt, lasts approximately 2 - 2.5 hours. This varies slightly with the size of the group and the geographical area that teams need to cover.

Space Requirements: A private area large enough to contain the entire group is needed for the introduction and for the post-hunt facilitation. Spy Hunt could take off on foot by having teams go from destination to destination in a wooded area, where bikes, skates, rafts and canoes can help them fulfill their mission. Spy Hunt is also fun in a city where the use of public transportation may be incorporated into the concept. Spy Hunt can also be done by car, van or limousine.

This program will self destruct in five minutes .....

“ It was a great event. I would certainly use your company again in the future. Thank you! ”
