

The DaVinci Adventure

“I'm pleased to report that the group enjoyed Vinci's Adventure tremendously! The hunt was well planned; all in all, it was a terrific opportunity to get together, interact with coworkers, with absolutely no stress, no agenda other than have a good time and enjoy the facilities. I hope we have more opportunities to conduct similar events in the future.”

T. B. – Welchs

Now your company can experience the thrill of the search for the ancient Grail, complete with all the excitement of the best seller. This is typically staged in an art* museum in your city (The Met, The Getty, The National Museum of Art, etc.). Teams use detailed maps while interacting with the artwork searching for clues that will help them break the mysterious Cryptex Code. The DaVinci Adventure is a great team building exercise that incorporates appreciation, intrigue and adventure.

Teams use maps of the museum which indicate where clues can be found. Your sleuths must first navigate to the right piece of artwork, then detect the correct answer within each piece. Once assembled, the full collection of clues helps teams find the location of the cryptex hidden somewhere in the museum.

The climax occurs when a team finally gets to open the cryptex itself. This grand opening can take place within the museum, at a nearby restaurant or at your meeting. You supply the treasure for the winning team...we'll supply the excitement.

Outcomes

- Promote team problem solving
- Foster creative thinking
- Give teams a sense of adventure
- Great morale booster with art appreciation

Features

- Crack codes, chase clues and hope your team is first to the hidden cryptex!

Ideal Usage

- New project kickoffs
- Sales meetings
- Off site retreats
- Mergers

Group Size

- 12 – 100 participants, broken up into sub-teams

Time

- Approximately 3 hours

*Really, any museum can support the DaVinci Adventure: science, natural history, modern art...even the Rock 'n' Roll Hall of Fame!