Experience the power of play!

Trumped: You're Hired!

Primary Benefit: Fun! Very effective for ice-breaking and fostering creative teamwork. This program is highly involving and motivating. All participants interact with one another in this high energy, fun-filled activity.

Secondary Benefits:

- Group Awareness
- Improved Morale
- Decision Making
- Problem Solving
- Goal Mapping
- Prioritizing

The Activity: Donald Trumped has an exciting team building competition for your company. The Donald apparently has an interest in your company and wants to see how smart, fast and competitive your employees are. This is a competitive team builder. During the game participants will complete both table-top exercises and some moderately physical tasks. However, nothing is overly taxing. Your company will be put into teams and after naming themselves, they'll be given outrageous tasks that push the limits of an apprentice's resourcefulness and creativity. Wait'll you see what you have to build the next Trumped tower out of. And designers never made outfits out of THIS before! The Donald will judge everything the teams do. At evening's end teams will be cut, until one hears those beautiful words: "YOU'RE HIRED!" After an evening of being Trumped, you'll hate the Donald even more than Ivana used to.

Training Module or De-Brief: There is no de-briefing after this game. However, a post-play group discussion on a variety of subjects can be facilitated if requested.

Minimum/Maximum Group Size: A group must have at least 12 persons (three teams of four). Depending on the size of your group, Trumped: You're Hired can be performed with 1, 3, 5 or more facilitators.

Program Length: Trumped runs approximately 2-3 hours in length, depending on the size of the group. It can be lengthened or shortened according to your time limitations and needs.

Space Requirements: A room large enough for the participants to move easily between tables.
