A Hole in One for Team Creativity.

Whether or not you're at home on the fairway, this great group event gets everyone involved in a meaningful way. Participants bring ideas and designs to life by creating a one-of-a-kind mini golf course that builds camaraderie, a good time, and a better putt!

The Game:

Your group is divided into teams, each of which is responsible for designing and building several golf holes. The challenge is to make each hole fun, interesting and conceptual, just as in miniature golf. Your team provides the inspiration and we provide a rich assortment of tubes, pipes, boxes, lumber and other whimsical building supplies to put success within everyone's reach. Then all resulting handiwork is arranged on genuine fake turf, lending an air of genuine fake legitimacy to the final product for the ultimate team building experience.

Once the final course has been constructed, teams select representatives to actually play the course. Other team members serve as official scorers and course marshals. Depending on your needs, TeamBonding can customize this program so that the entire course, as well as individual holes, can be designed to dovetail with your meeting/convention theme, company product line or whatever you wish. Build Your Own Mini Golf Course presents a great balance of challenging fun and friendly competition that won't require anyone to think too hard. All your team needs to do is work together to have fun. We do the rest, including judging the event and conducting the awards ceremony. A TeamBonding Master of Ceremonies and event staff keep everything moving smoothly. We supply sound and music to add another dimension. The result? An event that is unforgettable fun!
