- Connects teamwork to success
- Fosters team communication

In Chocolate Company Challenge, your team takes part in a series of deliciously choco-centric events, each building off the other, toward great team fun! We start your group off with the icebreaker “Chocolate Bingo”, and move toward coco-sleuthing in the “CSI Chocolate” competition, where teams guess their favorite candy brands by viewing cross sections of the treats. Next, teams take part in a fast-paced “Chocolate Trivia” game. Then, they flex their problem solving skills in the Towering Chocolate game, which requires creative and innovative thinking. Teams love the grand finale – a wild building event called “Bridge Over Chocolate Waters,” which has the teams using chocolate bars, candy, and frosting to craft a bridge structure!

It takes more than engineering skill to craft the bridge – not only do they have to pass a weight test, but the teams are judged on overall style. True leadership and communication skills are highlighted as participants work together to solve their challenges. For an added flair, we can add a collaborative element to the program in having teams create different buildings (like a chocolate neighborhood) or other items that show how creativity can be networked. And, yes, snacking on the building supplies can be allowed!

No matter which way you choose to have us adapt the Chocolate Company Challenge, it will be a palette tempting treat for all in this unique team building event!
