

CANNED GOOD

IT TAKES A TEAM TO RAISE A COMMUNITY.

BENEFITS & RESULTS

- Exciting opportunity for the creative and logically minded team member
- Use your resources to improve people's lives
- Improve business strategies
- Build something out of nothing

This event is all about caring and feeding - for both your business and your community. With this powerful learning opportunity you will engage your team in expressing those ideas for business improvement and innovation. Teams will be broken into enterprise groups to share and dialogue about ideas that could improve business cooperation and efficiency. These ideas will then be expressed in an iconic form using non-perishable food items, like canned and boxed food.

The “canstructions” will be built on the meeting room tables or floor and when everyone has completed their design the competition begins. Teams will then present their ideas to the judge's panel for critique. Through this “gallery showing” of the “canstructions” the company receives ample valuable input for business improvement. Once the competition is complete and bragging rights are presented to the enterprise teams the “canstructions” are packed up and presented to a member of a local food bank.

This event will not only nourish your business with new ideas, and community members with food, but also your team with the spirit of giving.
