Since the beginning of time, humankind has invented and reinvented devices and machines to make our lives easier or more efficient. The ultimate expression of this very human desire is to engineer machines for the sole purpose of having fun.

In the early 20th Century, “engineer” minded cartoon writers, led by Mr. Reuben Goldberg, started a new style of cartoons. The popularity of these cartoons would rapidly spread their popularity throughout the U.S.A. and the world. These cartoons depict complex chain reaction gadgets that perform simple tasks in complex ways.

Now, For the first time ever, TeamBonding Is bringing the famous “domino effect,” also called “Rube Goldberg” machines to the Team Building world. In this program, teams will compete against one another to build complex contraptions that accomplish a final signature task. The winning team will be decided based on criteria such as: Functionality, aesthetics, creativity, use of materials and team dynamics.

This fantastic program provides the perfect opportunity to ignite core company values among your team. Participants must communicate seamlessly, troubleshoot their designs, and find a perfect balance between creativity, functionality and attention to detail, fostering immediate tangible results.

“Chain Reaction” can be held anywhere. We come to you, complete with everything you need. TeamBonding takes care of all the logistics - making you look good while ensuring the whole event is organized, enjoyable and unforgettable.
