Activity Overview

- After brief onboarding, each player enters a breakout room and joins the game on their mobile phone or desktop
- The high energy kicks in as the platform randomly choose a speaker who must perform a customised challenge in a set amount of time
- If they feel courageous enough, speakers can opt to increase the difficulty of their challenge
- After their time elapses, the other players offer feedback to the speaker
- Play continues until everyone has had a turn in the hot seat!
- The gameplay offers the right setup for nurturing a feedback culture and for active listening

Customised
Content

Time to Talk is fully customisable to your requirements. Choose the total duration of the activity, the number of rounds and the timeframe given to each speaker
