Activity Overview

- Faced with a jumble of model components, teams must race to assemble a range of “snap-together” concept cars in record time
- Optimizing workflow is critical to success, as teams are challenged to create ultra-efficient assembly lines and reduce build times
- Speed is rewarded, but small mistakes can cause teams to drop down the leaderboard
- A significant realization occurs as the focus shifts from competition to collaboration at the end of the game
- The objective changes from achieving the best individual team times to sharing best practices in order to obtain the best average group time!
